Notable Appointment for Past President

Immediate past president of MLAANZ and former managing editor of Semaphore, David Goodwin, was recently appointed Professor and Dean of the University of Nottingham Business School in Malaysia.

Mr Goodwin was previously an Associate Professor with Victoria University in Melbourne and, before that, MBA Director and Director of Juris Doctor Programs with RMIT University (Royal Melbourne Institute of Technology).

He has also maintained a part-time practice as a commercial barrister at the Victorian Bar, focused on alternative dispute resolution.

The new role is located in Kuala Lumpur and Mr Goodwin can now be contacted on David.Goodwin@nottingham.edu.my.

In announcing the appointment, Dr Jason Pandya-Wood, Dean of the University of Nottingham's Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences, said: "David's appointment signals our strong commitment to engage with industry in building the future of business education and research in the region."

MLAANZ congratulates Professor Goodwin on his new appointment and wishes him every success.
